What is a conservation burial ground?

We define a conservation burial ground as a type of natural cemetery that is established in partnership with a conservation organization and includes a conservation management plan that upholds best practices, and provides perpetual protection of the land according to a conservation easement or deed restriction.

How the Conservation Burial Alliance helps

The CBA is a collaborative of conservation burial grounds and invested allies that fosters the conservation and sustainable management of land with natural burial for the benefit of people and the planet. Led by a volunteer board, it works to facilitate wide public understanding of conservation burial.

Our website offers information for all people interested in choosing natural burial, from how to find a cemetery and select a site to holding a meaningful, memorable graveside service.

We also offer resources for our valuable partners: the land trusts and conservancies that are considering whether to expand their missions to include a conservation cemetery. The Alliance believes that by sharing the mission of protecting the land and promoting healthy ecosystems, the resulting relationship can benefit everyone.
